WHY WE CARE

We believe that all children, youth, and their families deserve equitable access to services and supports that help meet basic needs, including safety, nutrition, housing, and transportation.

Many families experience basic needs insecurity—the lack or perceived lack of essential resources like food, housing, transportation, and physical safety. These basic needs are not isolated concerns but interconnected facets that are the cornerstones of optimal development. They profoundly impact a young person’s health, cognitive development, educational attainment, and, in turn, long-term economic security.

Supporting basic needs not only enhances child and family well-being but also strengthens communities as a whole. By providing these vital resources and services, we can begin to break the cycle of instability and create conditions that foster a nurturing environment for children and youth to thrive.

Eligible Funding Strategies

To increase equitable access to services and supports that help meet basic needs, including safety, nutrition, housing, and transportation, we fund strategies that:

- Prevent and minimize the impacts of violence and trauma within families, schools, and the community
- Increase access to affordable, culturally responsive, nutritious food for those experiencing food insecurity
- Support transitional housing and emergency sheltering, with wraparound support for young people and families experiencing housing insecurity or homelessness
- Offer safe, affordable, and reliable transportation for young people and their families

Grantmaking Guiding Principles

Caring for Colorado partners with a local community advisory board to provide grant funding to organizations that serve Pueblo County. The Sperry S. and Ella Graber Packard Fund for Pueblo Advisory Board prioritizes funding for organizations and programs that are guided by community voice, are culturally responsive, focus on equity, and demonstrate significant impact. The advisory board's has established shared definitions of key terms, guidance, and recommended strategies for success. Learn more about our advisory board guiding principles.

Application Review Process and Timeline

Caring for Colorado utilizes a two-part online application process. No registration is needed to submit the Part 1 application, which is designed to provide grant seekers with a quick, low-barrier opportunity to share basic information about the organization and proposed work. Staff reviews Part 1 applications to determine eligibility and alignment with the funding opportunity.

Organizations that submit a Part 1 application by 5:00 p.m. on January 16, 2025 will be notified about the status of their application by January 27, 2025. If an application is declined, the organization will receive an email from the director of place-based philanthropy with a brief explanation of the decision. Organizations that are invited to move forward in the review process will be asked to complete the Part 2 application by 5:00 p.m. on February 20, 2025. The Part 2 application must be submitted via Caring for Colorado's online grants portal.

Organizations invited to submit a Part 2 application will also be required to participate in a site visit with staff and community advisory board members. Following a comprehensive review process, the community advisory board will submit its funding recommendations to the Caring for Colorado Centennial Fund board of directors for final approval. Following board approval, the director of place-based philanthropy will notify applicants of grant decisions by May 22, 2025. The grant start date is July 1, 2025.

Learning & Assessment

How Your Application Informs Our Learning

The Part 1 application requires basic organizational data that Caring for Colorado collects to inform the decision-making process and help the foundation track and assess key grantmaking metrics over time (e.g., counties served, budget size, populations served, etc.).

The Part 2 application requires organizations to establish at least one objective and subsequent outcome for each eligible funding strategy selected. If funded, the grantee will report on the results of objectives(s) and outcomes(s) after 12 months.

POST GRANT AWARD:

In addition to reporting on grant objectives and outcomes, grantees will be asked optional learning questions in their annual grant report. These questions are designed to support Caring for Colorado in assessing our Packard Fund for Pueblo funding approach and create opportunities to share best practices and lessons learned with other grantees working on the same strategies.

Grantees will not be expected to implement any specific measurement tools or be asked to explicitly evaluate the impact of their work on the funding opportunity's desired results. We understand that organizations use different tools and methods to track data and measure impact, and we are confident that those will be helpful in reflecting on the funding opportunity's impact.
